I've got an essay due Monday.

I found it.

Tempo, a musical term I'm told, relates to speed and pace. Living on the edge of the space era as we do, terms like velocity, momentum, r.p.m.'s and orbits receive common usage by the high schooler.

The right combination, however, involves both speed and quality. In this our "Year of Class" we have attempted to stress the importance of fineness, accuracy, precision and care. Our progress seems to be receiving regular recognition, and certainly has provided inspiration and satisfaction to your principal.

Obviously the tempo quickens, knowledge increases, the demands of school and society become greater by the hour. Whereas a trip to the moon once provided material for comic strips, now we tool to try to get their first. Your generation will make it!

Congratulations to all of you for a tremendous year and a first-class yearbook.

*The end of a Junior's year is filled with doubt and uncertainty.
He feels a sense of accomplishment
because of the two years he has completed.
Yet he realizes how much more
there is for him to learn and achieve before he leaves the security of his alma mater.*

This year members of the legislative body of K-M lived up to their past reputation as the leaders of the school. With a membership of sixty this group was composed of representatives from every homeroom plus the class presidents. Beginning the year with a weekend session at Camp Waskowitz, the members not only got to know each other but planned the activities of the year, and appointed the standing committees. The annual magazine sale sponsored by Council, set a new high this year of thirteen hundred dollars, proceeds going for books in the library and helping sponsor the orchestra's trip to the All-State Music Festival in Spokane.

Girls' Club Helps Quicken the Pulse

GIRLS' CLUB—The Girls' Club of Kent-Meridian, was ably led by an active nine girl cabinet. These members were outfitted in new and unique green suits, which presented a refreshing change.

The '66 Girls' Club sponsored many, varied activities for its all-school female members. A few of the undertakings included, a vanillia sale, a Father-Daughter Dessert, the Mothers' Tea Angiefooney Shoo, the adopted child from Tasmania, and a new word contest called "Scrabble-itis" which involved making words from the letters "Kent-Meridian Girls' Club". The Friendship, Birthday, Adopted Child, and Girl-of-the-Month committees extended personal recognition to all the girls of the school.

Boys' Club Livens the Royal Beat

This was a great year for the Boys' Club, for under the active leadership of President Larry Smith, the group came out of its past years' hibernation. They set the year off with a lively Boys' Club-Faculty Basketball Game and came back with encore after encore, never once letting down the often-zany pace. Sponsoring such activities as the gas raffle, the Marathon Basketball Game and Wide Tie and Dorfy Hat Day, the club went on to keep the spirits high among the boys of Kent-Meridian.

The Diadem staff was a hard-working group of students who devoted much of their after-school, week-night and week-end hours to the production of the annual. The staff and section editors were ably led by Editor Carole Kent. The other editors included: Assistant Editor Marilyn Kennelly; Administration, Val Tulip; Seniors, Carole Kent; Juniors, Gloria Schmitt; Sophomores, Candy Lund; Activities, Georgena Halte;

Sports, Gail Burrell; Ads, Janie Thorp; Art, Jan Kares and Rita Hudziak; Copy, Shirley Miles; and Circulation, Nancy Bevan and Arlene Brakel. Keeping the year of "class" in mind, they chose a modern theme—"tempo" and, guided by Mr. Jim Howell of American Yearbooks and with photography assistance from Mr. Art Pommer, they succeeded in producing a yearbook unlike any other at K-M.

and Activities through Publications

The sixth period Publications Workshop staff published K-M's bi-monthly newspaper, the Royal Herald. Many changes were initiated this year including a revision of the Royal Finque, third period paper distribution so that students could enjoy their papers during the noon hour and a new semester journalism pre-requisite for the class. The highlight of the year was a special twelve page Homecoming and election edition which was distributed to both junior highs as well as the high school. The Herald's editorial policy reflected no favoritism nor alteration of facts while still expressing divergent viewpoints and constructive criticism of the interests and activities of K-M's students. This was a hard standard to maintain, but under the direction of capable editor Barb Talbeck and advisor Mrs. Dolores McGuinness, it was upheld.

Pepsters Add Zest

Rally Board was extremely successful this year in its promotion of organized school spirit. The loyal pepsters, led by vivacious General Chairman Kathy Blanton, boosted the teams to championship wins.

"Hudziak and Kares Originals" added class to K-M as Clyde, Batman, King of Id, the Bird of Paradise, and James Bond lent their support to the Royals. Publicity Committee members could be seen working hard on their signs every Tuesday and Friday night after school. Rooter bus sales reached an all-time high when Rally Board sponsored six buses to the Renton game and nine buses to the PSL Championship game. They sold doughnuts, Christmas cards and class T-shirts, and held after-game dances with special guest disc-jockeys from KOL to become one of the few self-supporting clubs at K-M.

Debate Team Top PSL Competition

The K-M debaters were one of the most talkative groups in the school as they took part in debates throughout the state. With the topic, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should adopt a program of compulsory arbitration in labor-management disputes in basic industries," the debaters placed among the best in the Puget Sound League. This qualified them to participate in the State Tournament held at Washington State University where stiff opposition was met with intellectual strength and enthusiasm. Besides debating, the members participated in various individual events including oratory, interpretive reading, impromptu and extemporaneous speaking. With everyone contributing, success by the entire team was gained.

The Intellectual Set Promotes Scholarship

Then Kent-Meridian chapter of National Honor Society was one of the school's largest and most active clubs. While the ninety members led by President Jim Jones promoted scholarship, leadership, character, and service, they went on to prove that Torch Honor was anything but a group of "intellectual eggheads." They sponsored a before-game dinner, an after-game dance, parties, doughnut sales and car-washes plus one day declared Torch Day when the club, as a group, got the whole day off to take part in an all-day activity of their choice.

Exchange Club Hosts Foreign Students

The K-M chapter of the American Field Service was one of the school's most up-and-coming clubs. Their main concern this year was Brigitte Mayer, the school's Austrian exchange student, and Shoichi Fukushima, the Japanese gymnast who came in December to learn English before entering the University of Washington. The Foreign Exchange Assembly in May was a highlight of the club's year as they hosted exchange students from much of the surrounding area. In addition to this, the club members sold candy and doughnuts and held several dinners and parties.

Latin Club was a lively organization this year taking first place in all events at the state convention and sponsoring Adriane Niccoli as treasurer of the Washington State Junior Classical League. President Barbara Borkovski led the group in its many activities including the publication of the November issue of the state newsletter "Vox Latina," the production of a Roman play written by junior Jan Milligan and a slave banquet held in the spring.

Royal Businessmen Participate in

K-M's chapter of Distributive Education was a program of youth activities designed to develop future leaders in marketing and distribution. The two classes first and second period, Royal Vocations Limited and fifth and sixth period, Royal Merchants were both taught by Mrs. Jan Gonnason. They were highly competitive in their projects which included, record sales, doughnut sales, a candy sale, and several raffles. Each student had a part-time job of at least fifteen hours per week, in which he did such things as clerk, cook and wait on tables. Others were phone receptionists, librarians, secretaries and electronic technicians. The highlight of the year was the Spokane State Convention which was held March 18-20. The Employee-Employer Banquet was the conclusion of a year of stiff competition.

Pages and Court Present

Homecoming week at Kent-Meridian was a spectacular event. Preparations for the weekend festivities started more than a month before the actual football game and dance held October 22 and 23. The Royal pages, directed by Miss Mary McKee, were junior girls who put in many long and hard hours of practice to achieve the precision displayed at the pre-game assembly and at half-time of the Homecoming football game. Dressed in burgundy and pink, the girls added a touch of regality to the presentation of the queen and her princesses Nancy Tsukamaki, Janel Schmitt, Renate Rekevics and Karen Dobson. Queen Sydne Johansen was crowned by Girls' Club President Rita Perrins.

Queen Sydne and Court Reign at 'Tara'

"Dark cedars on either side of the graveled drive met in an arch overhead, turning the long avenue into a dim tunnel . . . leading to the beautiful white columned house that crowned the hill like a Greek temple."

This is "Tara" the Southern plantation from the novel, Gone With The Wind, and the theme for Homecoming 1965. October 23, the Cafetorium was transformed into a Civil War Mansion and this life was depicted by the cotton plants, pillars and rose trees. Led by General Chairman Jean Schooling, many hard-working girls put in long hours in preparation for this gala event.

Intermission of the dance was highlighted by the presentation of the Homecoming Court.

The dance saw many graduates return to their Alma Mater to join the present students in the climax of "Tara '65."

Arabian Theme Set for the Boys' Night Out

The 1966 Girls' Honor Tolo, Scheherazade, was a spectacular success. The annual dance was the "big chance" for K-M's female population to ask their male "friends" and favorite fellas to go out at their expense.

The Arabian theme was carried through by General Chairman Janel Schmitt, and her Girls' Honor member chairmen plus many other girls working under them. Palm trees and genuine Arabian props donated by junior Pam Larson were used to accent the exotic atmosphere. Music was provided by Don Girvan and his band.

The Tolo Court, chosen by the girls of Kent-Meridian, was made up of five handsome males: John Grisham, Doug Jensen, Al Marquis, Bill Sloan, and Ric Warwick. They and their dates for the evening were presented to those in attendance at the dance on March 25, at which time King Bill Sloan was crowned.

Sponsors Scheherazade and Promotes Service

Girls' Honor Society is one of K-M's most active clubs. It's forty female members, all active leaders of the school, perform many services throughout the year.

Membership can be obtained by any girl who devotes one-hundred-fifty hours of service to the school, providing that she satisfactorily passes the designated initiations.

This year the girls managed the concession stands during football season, ushered at the Drill Team Conference in March and at graduation plus various other school and community functions. They sold candy to raise money for scholarships and sponsored the annual Tolo days and dance with the Arabian theme of "Scheherazade."

The fall and spring initiations were highlights of the Girls' Honor year as entering girls dressed in outlandish costumes and performed ridiculous stunts between classes and at lunch.

Royal High-Steppers

The Royalettes Drill Team was 23 members strong this year as they marched at games, conferences, competitions and parades. In March, they were host to the Northwest High School Drill Team Conference to which more than 100 girls from Washington and Canada attended. The girls helped with the Salvation Army's "Toys for Tots" program in December and also held a car wash, a key chain sale and a candy sale. This year, their Marine Corps advisor, First Sergeant Jaunal, seldom had to remind the girls to use their "other left."

Students Handle School Traffic Problems

Beginning the year with a Traffic Conference at Sandpoint Naval Air Station where they viewed films, participated in discussions and compared K-M's system with the systems for traffic safety used at other schools, Traffic Court worked hard to promote traffic safety and apprehend teen-age traffic violators.

The twelve-man court consisted of two sophomores, four juniors and six seniors. Once a member is chosen, he is on the board for the remainder of his high school years. Traffic Court tries Kent-Meridian traffic violators who choose to be reviewed by Traffic Court instead of Juvenile Court. Traffic Court is also in charge of the car check for student parking permits in the fall.

Common Interests

Chess Club

A skillful game became the center of this lively new organization at K-M—the Chess Club. Led by President Chuck Barber and vice-president Frank Korsonthowski, the twenty members met every Wednesday after school. The group consisting of juniors and sophomores participated in a tournament within the club where everyone challenged the others. After competing in six PSL matches, the players held a three-win and three-loss record.

ROYAL CHESSMEN CRAIG Campbell Jay Hesse, Doug Pugh, Ron Scoville, Rod Clark, Don Wright, use strategy and concentration in out maneuvering teammates during intra-team matches.

Amateur Radio

The most unique club at K-M started with a group of boys who were interested in owning and operating amateur radios. They met each week in the evening to learn new aspects of the radio and to compare each other's accomplishments. Using this year for a starting point, the club will be able to grow in the future of K-M.

AMATEUR RADIO: Richard Cadle, Frank Bryant, Jack Cory, Bill L'Hereux, Mr. Borden.

Royal Riders

The horselovers at K-M joined together to form an entirely new club, The Royal Riders. Under the supervision of Mrs. MacKenzie, the group met on weekends to ride and groom their horses. The members all have their own horses and have learned to ride them with skill. Everyone in the Club helped the others to learn all about their horse. By their exchanging of skill everyone benefited. With the establishment of the Club this year, the future horse enthusiasts at K-M will have a chance to display their talents, with other Royal Riders.

Joined as Five New Clubs are Established

F.T.A.

The members of Future Teachers of America worked together to secure accurate information on vocational opportunities in education. Throughout the year they participated in student teaching and tutoring. They followed P.T.A. and K.E.A. activities and took part in career days at nearby colleges. Several of the members attended a conference with other state high schools to learn and exchange educational ideas. After gaining this valuable experience, the club was ready to join as a well established organization at K-M.

Farm Enthusiasts Show Livestock

The Kent-Meridian Chapter of the Future Farmers of America met two nights a month to discuss plans, listen to speakers and view films on agriculture. They participated in judging and showing contests with their livestock, and crops, competing with teams from Washington, Oregon, and British Columbia. They held a slave auction and with their beef raffle raised money to finance the team's entrance and trips to contests and fairs. They also sponsored a Parliamentary Procedure team which developed public speaking and leadership qualities.

The purpose of FFA was to develop leadership, cooperation, confidence and appreciation for natural surroundings.

This organization, led by Jim Johnson president, met twice a month to see movies and talk over future plans. Their main objectives were to educate the members in the proper use of firearms, to promote safe sportsmanlike methods in hunting and fishing, and to teach conservation of natural resources. Under the direction of advisors Mr. Shulz and Mr. Dragness, they scheduled rifle shoots and contests to improve their rod and gun skills.

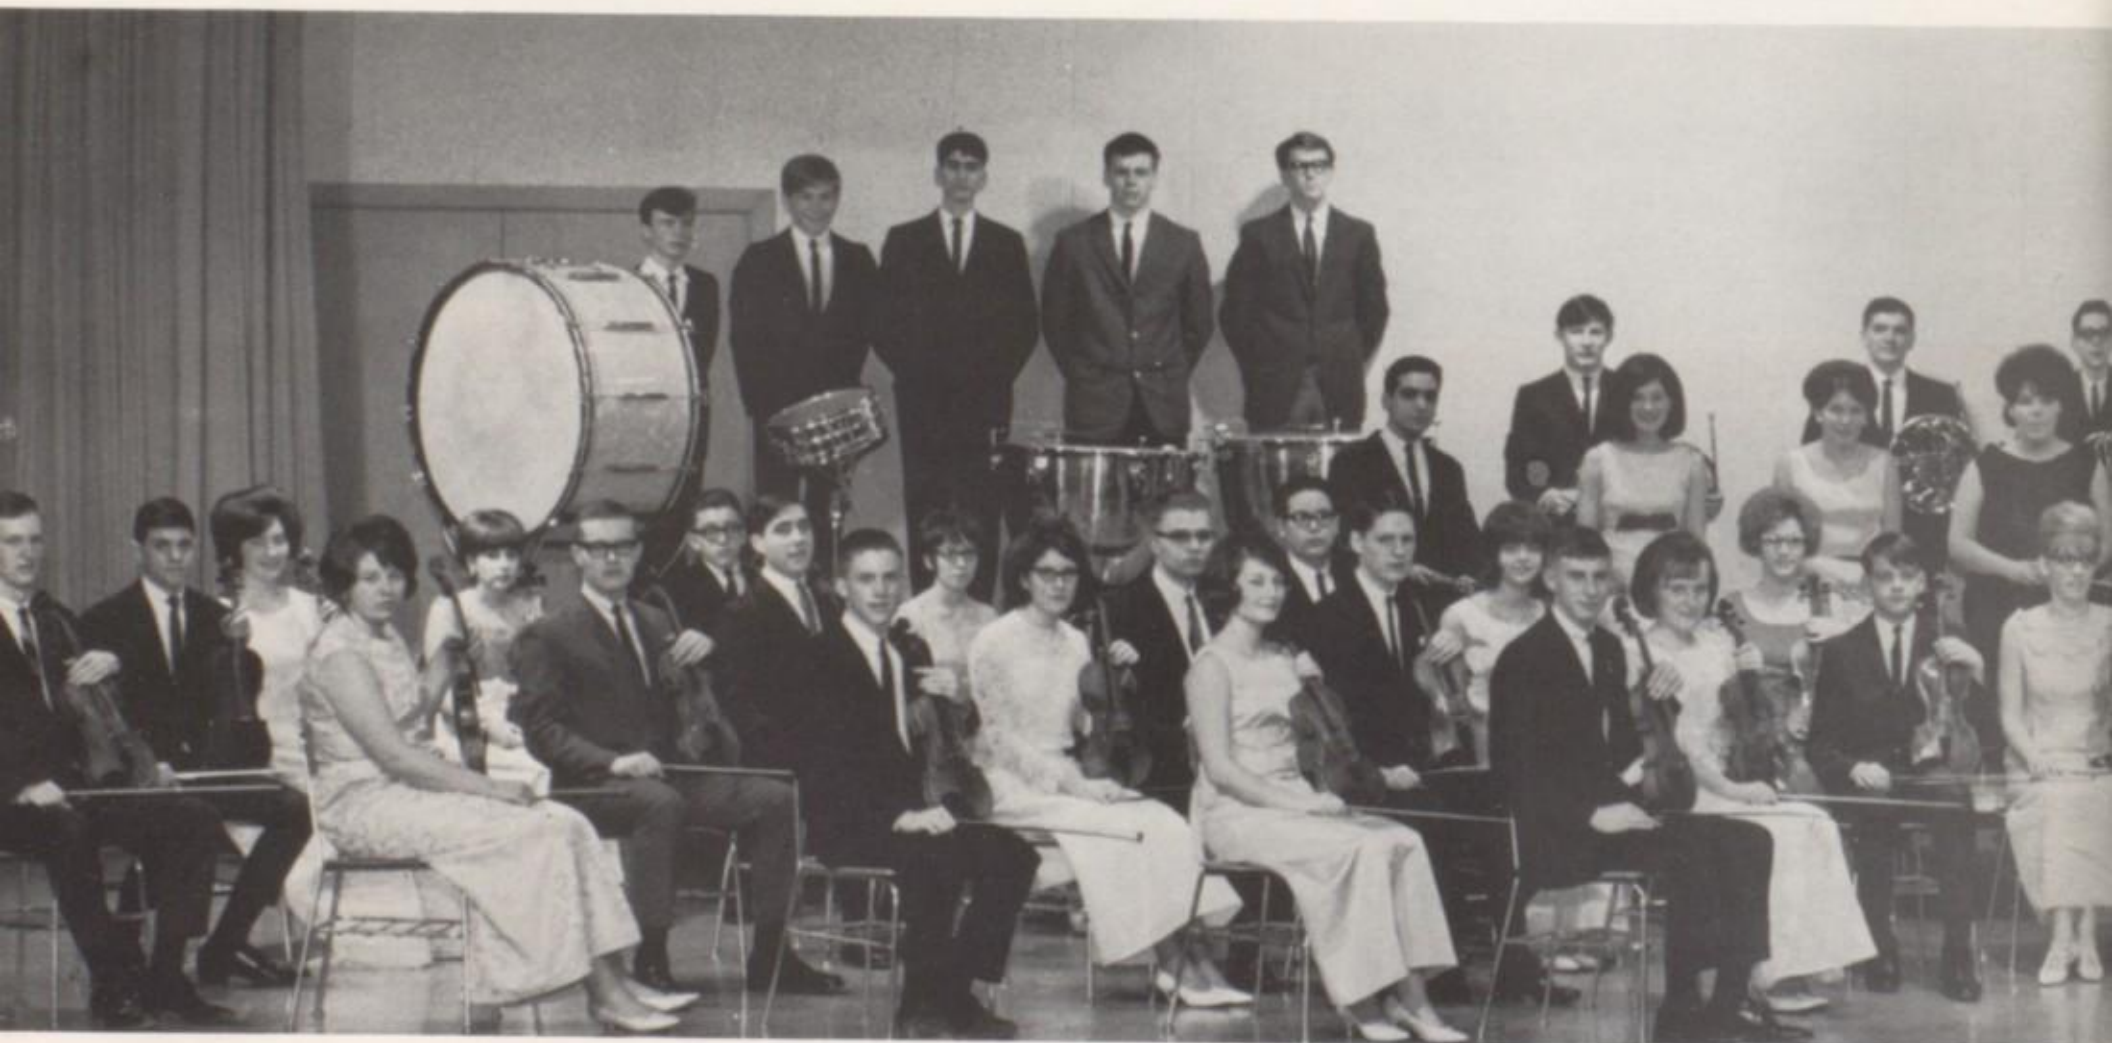

Orchestra Receives Standing

After weeks of waiting for an answer to their application to perform at Spokane for the All-State Music Educators' Conference, the Royal orchestra members were overjoyed to learn that they were the only high school orchestra chosen to perform. They traveled to Spokane by bus February 22 where they stayed in the Davenport Hotel for two nights and performed on February 23 for music educators from throughout the state. They received an instantaneous standing ovation for their outstanding performance of "Symphony in E Minor" from Dvorak's New World Symphony, Bach's "Overture No. 1" and "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" by Richard Wagner.

They continued to receive honors at the PSL contest in March and performed at both Seattle Pacific and Western Washington State colleges before appreciative audiences after adding Dimitri Shostakovitch's "Polka" from the Golden Age Ballet to their challenging repertoire.

Musicians Achieve Excellence through

The 1966 Royal Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Stowell, worked with determination to uphold the standards set by the band of '65. They tackled Tschaiowski's "1812 Overture" with enthusiasm as the supreme challenge of the year. The seventy-five members put in many before and after-school rehearsals in their drive for perfection.

Besides its annual Bandarama and Christmas Concert held at K-M, the band performed for audiences throughout the Northwest. During Spring Vacation, the Concert Band traveled south on tour in Oregon presenting five concerts at several high schools and at the University of Oregon. They hosted the Roseburg, Oregon High School Band in an exchange concert as part of this program. Returning to Abbotsford, British Columbia for the Abbotsford International Music Festival where they took the sweepstakes in '65, the band was honored as the main performers in the evening concert there.

Groups and individuals also entered various solo and ensemble contests representing K-M well. Top-rate in every performance, the band's achievement of excellence was recognized throughout the Northwest.

Drive in PSL Championship Win

CAPTAIN KEN MOURER proudly displays the PSL Championship trophy after a winning football season.

The 1965-66 football season was the most successful that Kent-Meridian has seen in ten years. With only one loss, and non-league loss at that, the K-M squad captured the PSL Championship. There were many memorable games but the sound tromping of Renton followed with the "big walk" home by Coach Emerson and the PSL title game against Franklin-Pierce head the list with most students.

The offensive and defensive squads were of highest quality this year. As the coaching staff put it, "it was a great team effort," and in turn, the boys agreed that the coaching was the best around. This fact became evident to the whole community when Fred Emerson was named head football coach at Western Washington State College for the '66-'67 season.

Ball control and a good running attack were stressed on offense and the team averaged over two touchdowns per game against their opponents. The defensive team, nicknamed the "Royal Bandits," was the best in the league. Only one team scored against Kent during league play and during the entire year opposing teams averaged just 3.7 points per game against the Royals.

At the annual football banquet Kim Hoel was named next year's captain and '65 Captain Ken Mourer was named inspirational player of the year.

Golf Team Takes Third in PSL

The K-M divot diggers were six members strong this year as they swang through quite a successful year. They beat every PSL team at least once, except undefeated Glacier.

Five out of the six were taken to each match. Bruce Matheny, always a consistent scorer, won his third varsity letter this year, as did Gary Van Ackeran, co-captain with Rick LaBelle. Duane Williams earned his second letter this year by shooting several outstanding scores. Sophomores Jim Hawley and Dan Benson qualified for every league match of the season.

Crosscountry Team Works for Endurance

CROSS COUNTRY—The K-M Cross Country team ended the year with a hard-fought record of one win. Running the 1-3/4 mile course, the team practiced every night using both muscle and endurance abilities. Each team member strove for individual success in the distance running as well as for the team effort. The annual inspirational award went to Senior Ken Pothier, whose driving effort set an example for the others. This year's Captain Mark Lloyd helped lead the harriers to many well-deserved honors at K-M.

1. THREE ROYAL HARRIERS race around the long course in preparation for a cross country meet.
2. SENIOR GLEN BEARSON strains for extra speed as he nears the finish line.
3. STEVE BELL, who last year won the inspirational award, ran during the entire '66 season with only socks to protect his feet.

Royal Cage Squad Captures League Title

By knocking off all league comers with the exceptions of one assault by Renton and another by Mt. Rainier, the Royals walked off with the title of Puget Sound League Basketball Champions. This was the first time in Royal history that K-M has won two major titles in the same year.

Led by Captain Ric Warwick, the big five and their seven back-up men perfected many offensive and defensive plays that succeeded in tripping up their opponents. Warwick and Al Marquis were named on the first string of the all-league team and Curt Sells and Jerry Westendorf also received league honors.

Tense moments were many this year, with the Royals often coming from far behind to win all-important games. The first Mt. Rainier game was one of these. The K-M cagers emerged from fourteen points down in the fourth quarter to win the game 54-52. Another exciting game was played at Clover Park. While the score was not close, there were many anxious minutes with K-M being charged with two technical fouls and one very surprising intentional foul by Curt Sells that resulted in his being ousted from the game.

Probably the most memorable and heartbreaking game of the year was the final contest played at the Seattle Center Arena against Renton for the regional title. The Royals one-time eleven point advantage was slowly whittled down by the Indians and after an attempted stall by our offense, Renton snatched the ball and went ahead to win the game 43-40. Having defeated the Garfield Bulldogs the night before, the Royals came out with second place in the region and fifth place in the state.

CAPTAIN RIC WARWICK expresses thanks for student body support after the Royals finished second in the state regional tourney. This qualified K-M's team for fifth in the state.

Boys Capture Seventh Place at State

The boys' gymnastic team finished the 1966 season with a 7-3 win-loss season. They won against Laughon, West Bremerton, Chehalis, Centralia, Everett, and Shorecrest and lost to Issaquah, Renton, and Bothell. Captain Roy McDermott was the team's high scorer with 164 cumulative points. Larry Christensen, an eight time first-place winner, was an outstanding performer on the rings, as were Russ Linford on the high bar, and Bob Bauman on the mats. The Royals should be stronger next year with all the present team, with the exception of Greg Borchers, returning.

The girls' gymnastic team included eight girls who earned letters this year, while participating in statewide rivalry. These girls competed in both the novice and junior divisions, with several members placing at each meet. On March 26, the Royals hosted the Washington State Gymnastic Meet for Girls. Sue Bemis, Pauline Conwell, Charlene Proso and Diane Scribner qualified to compete.

K-M Ski Enthusiasts Participate in Northwest's

The Kent-Meridian Ski Club was one of the school's most active this year. The members were a happy group with the common interest of skiing. Activities included eight weeks of skiing lessons, a raffle, a hike to the Mt. Rainier Ice Caves, an ocean trip and spring vacation at Banff, Canada.

Broken skis were many this year. President Bruce Schuman made the most famous crack-up when he tried a daredevil jump after having only six weeks of lessons. Injuries were not uncommon, but luckily few involved more than a turned ankle or scraped knee.

At a banquet which highlighted the year, members reminisced about '65-'66 activities and awarded each other humorous "titles" as reminders of individual skiing performances.

Grapplers Excel in Tournaments

The Royal Wrestlers boasted a winning season this year with a 7-3-2 record in overall league competition. They placed third in the sub-district, missing second by two points. At the district meet the K-M matmen placed 7th of 42 teams.

Coach Johnson was pleased with the boys' performances and cited the match against Renton as the best team effort of the year.

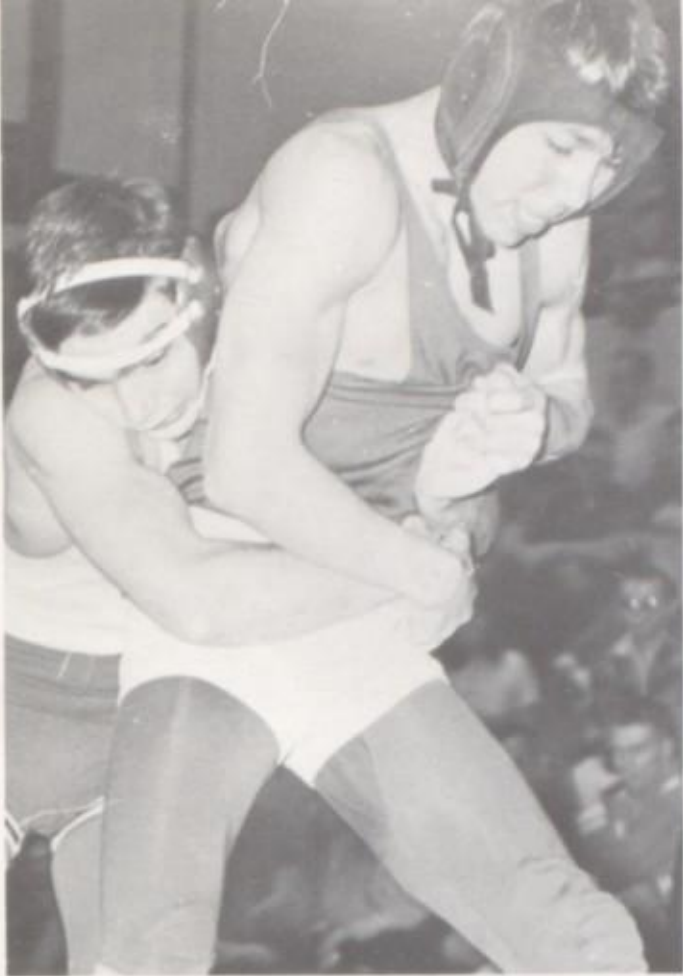

Several individuals on the squad contributed outstanding performances. Three boys—Dennis Stanchfield, Don Anderson and Don Pothier—qualified to compete in the state tournament.

At the post-season wrestling banquet Don Anderson was named Inspirational Award winner and Ken Pothier was named captain for the 1966-67 season.

Tracksters Exert High Degree of Energy

The K-M trackmen were led by Co-captains Ric Warwick and Jim Frazier this year as they leaped, ran and heaved their way to victory. With nine returning lettermen, only four of them seniors, the bulk of the team was made up of sophomores and juniors making this track season a "building" year.

Rick Warwick holds the school record in the high jump, while Ken Mourer placed extremely high in the discus records.

The sophomores, 29 strong, brought outstanding talent to the team. Rick Steere, a promising pole vaulter and Gary Agarpao, an accomplished hurdler and broad jumper, both hold records at the junior high and they performed up to expectation.

AAU Tournament Highlights Year in Judo

The 1966 judo team was a lively group this year as they strived for personal as well as team achievement. The boys took part in many matches throughout the season, and improvement was exceptional. Chuck Wagner was promoted to heavyweight second degree brown belt while John Reed earned a heavyweight third degree brown belt. Co-captains Frank Coen and Dick Miyoshi both held first degree brown belts.

High school participants have a limited chance to win because they must compete against opponents of college-age and older, but despite this definite handicap the K-M squad won many matches. Representatives of Kent-Meridian travelled as far as Vancouver, B.C. and Milwaukee, Wisconsin to take part in judo tournaments.

The highlight of the year came in February when the Kent-Meridian Institute hosted the Pacific Northwest Senior A.A.U. Judo Championships. All Royal judoists participated in the competition.

Racketeers Stroke

The 1966 tennis team was a closely-knit squad this year as they swung through a very successful season. Playing each PSL team twice, the squad won many matches in both singles and doubles. Verna Stitt and Ron Anthony, co-captains of the squad, were strong players as were the other varsity and junior varsity players. Taking two byes, both during spring vacation, the team played league matches almost every Tuesday and Thursday.

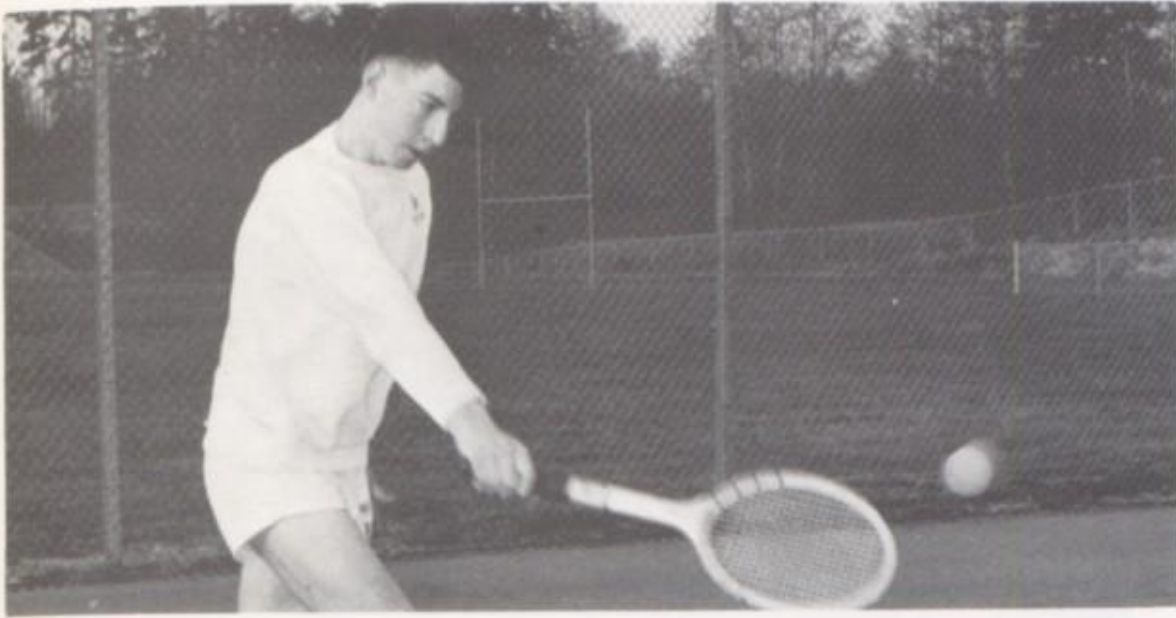

This individual-type sport didn't lack competition and team spirit mainly because no positions were ever final, they often changed as a result of turnout performance.

Batmen Strike Up Impressive Victories

COACH CON HEACOX and Captain Owen Hampton work out plans for the '66 season.

The 1966 Royal Baseball team was one of the strongest in the league this year with seven returning lettermen backing Captain Owen Hampton. At the start of the season Coach Heacox forecasted a "promising year" for the team and he was not disappointed. With three lettering pitchers Bruce Alkire, Ken Carmack and Warren Parker returning, the Royals gained a head start, especially since veteran catcher Steve Anderson was on the other end. Beginning the year with two non-league games, K-M played each Puget Sound League opponent twice, making an exceptional effort with each game.

The Junior Varsity team was also a strong group this year. Coached by Mr. Morgan, they showed much promise for not only this year's team, but for next year's varsity squad as well.

Girls' Athletic Association Varies Activities

The Girls' Athletic Association promoted intramural and intraschool sports. The year was divided into sports seasons including volleyball, badminton, bowling, basketball, baseball and handball. Managers were elected to handle their delegated sport seasons after which teams were formed and a round-robin tournament was played.

G.A.A. was led by President Linda Lewis and supervised by Mrs. Peterson. The girls worked hard to develop individual skills as well as team spirit and sportsmanship.

One of the highlights of the year was the track playday in May when they hosted girls from the six PSL Northern Division schools.

Intramural Sports Offered All Year Long

Intramural sports were very popular at K-M this year with boys not involved in the major sports. During the fall basketball was offered to the after school players and boasting a 7-1 record, Larry Buol's team won the championship. Other teams were headed by Cal Spooner, Wes Van De Mark, Bob Capps, and Chuck Neal.

During the winter twelve two-man teams vied for the handball championship with Larry Stockwell and Phil Rouse finishing on top after a final play-off against Thaine Porter and Luther Green.

The spring season saw basketball and soccer offered to the boys in their after school hours.

Thanks

After many months of pictures, lay-outs, deadlines, and late nights, we finally succeeded in producing an entirely revolutionary Diadem—a modern one that truly fits the year of “class.” We did our very best, even to the extent of inserting some mistakes just for those of you who are looking for them!

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Bert Perler Studios, American Yearbook Company, Miss Eileen McHugh, Mrs. Dolores McGuinness, Dr. J. Arthur Stewart, Mr. Paul Highsmith, the Kent-Meridian custodians, and the entire staff for their co-operation in making this yearbook a success.

My special thanks goes to Mr. Art Pommer who spent so much of his time doing photography work for me and to Mr. Jim Howell of American Yearbooks who guided our work on the '66 Diadem.

It was a great experience and my hat is off to all of you for the completion of one fine job!
